Redlands Firm Low Bidder, For Dana Jr. Annex

Bid is $265,600; Plan To Start Building Next Week

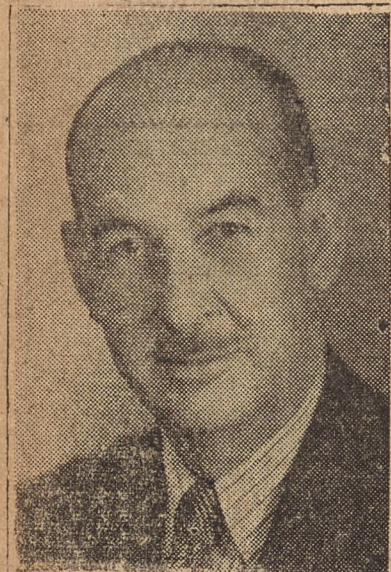

Scherer & Pritchard of Redlands, Calif., will be awarded the contract for construction of the new $300,000 annex to the Dana Junior high school, according to recommendation made by the San Diego Board of Education at their meeting of Wednesday. The Redlands firm was found to have the low bid of $265,600 when bids from nine firms were opened Wednesday. The range of bids was close and the competition keen, reports Principal Clarence Swenson, and the board expressed pleasure at obtaining so low a bid.

The board is expected to formally sign the contract award at their next meeting, and preliminary work on the construction is expected to start next week, reports Swenson.

First Of Series Of Free Classes To Start Monday

Home Planners Will Meet at Institute For Instruction

The first of a series of 10 free classes covering virtually every phase of new home building and planning will get underway here Monday evening, March 5, at 7:30 p.m., when the Home Planners' Institute opens at the Ocean Beach Elementary school.

E. G. MERRILL, Jr.

Featured speakers will be Vic Lundy, representing the San Diego Realty Board, and E. G. Merrill, Jr., representing the title companies of San Diego county. Lundy's talk, "Selection of the Homesite" will cover the important subjects to be considered in choosing the proposed building site, location, topography and general layout, utilities, public services, school facilities, taxes and assessments, restrictions and building laws.

Opening the meeting will be a representative from one of Ocean Beach's leading organizations. Frank Lockett, secretary-manager of the Institute, will outline the aims of the Institute and introduce the speakers.

The 10 free meetings of the Institute will bring to Ocean Beach and Mission Beach residents 20 outstanding speakers in the fields of home planning including architects, designers, contractors, electricians, plumbers, interior decorators, landscape architects, title executives and building material experts. The public will be given an opportunity to ask questions of the speakers at the conclusion of each lecture period.

Subjects to be covered by the Home Planners' Institute program include: selection of homesites, building laws, modern home design, investment protection, financing, landscaping, building materials, heating and ventilating, insulation and weather conditioning, planning classes on Tuesday evening, wiring, color and interior decoration.

Presentation of the Home Planners' Institute has been possible through the financial support of many leading San Diego firms and civic organizations vitally interested in maintaining the prosperity of San Diego county after the war. Although financed by busi-

Baptists Canvass For Enlistments In Church Work

The Baptist church of Ocean Beach began last Sunday an intensive house-to-house canvass of Ocean Beach to find those not actively identified with the churches of the community and to seek their enlistment for the church and Christ. Thomas Bonds, 4652 Muir Ave., is chairman and Mrs. Ralph Scott, 4955 Santa Monica Ave., is secretary.

The names of all persons indicating preference for churches other than the Baptist church will be turned over to the pastors of such churches.

"This is a canvass primarily to win souls for Christ and not a canvass for any particular church," announces the pastor, Rev. P. O. Jensen. The local Baptist church has set a goal of seeking to win 100 souls for Christ during the year 1945, he says.

ness organizations, the free lecture series will be entirely non-commercial and will be conducted under the adult education program.

Other Home Planner's classes are being conducted by similar organizations throughout the nation. Point Loma High Senior Wins In District Contest

D. A. R. Award of $25 War Bond Goes to Anne Parrish

Anne L. Parrish, senior at Point Loma high school, is the district winner in the California Good Citizenship contest of Daughters of the American Revolution, announces Mrs. Cecil W. Neff, chairman for San Diego and Imperial counties. Competition was upon a written examination on American history. Miss Parrish outdistanced all other entrants by answering correctly 200 questions out of a total of 224 in the test. As district winner she will receive from the California D. A. R. a $25 War bond and will be eligible to compete with six other district winners for the $100 War bond offered by the National Society, D. A. R. This further competition takes the form of a 500-word paper on the topic: "Obligations Inherent in Our Civil and Political Rights."

Miss Parrish was selected to represent Point Loma high school after nominations had been made by her classmates. Her scholastic record there has been very commendable in all subjects. Her training in American history has been the same as that required of all students at Point Loma high school.

"Results such as Anne has achieved," stated L. L. Bloomenshine, principal, "may help to correct the misleading impression given by some recent magazine articles and editorials. An understanding of the American way of living is an important part of the whole elementary school program. A full year of American history is required in the eighth grade. Another full year of American history is required in the eleventh grade. In addition, one semester of citizenship is required in the senior year."

Miss Parrish is the daughter of Major (U.S.M.C.) and Mrs. G. H. Parrish of 3345 Voltaire St.

No Space For Story This Week

Editor's Note—Too much home news left no space for serial story this week, so "God Is My Co-Pilot," will be continued in our next issue.

City Acquires Nine Acres Beach Near Amusement Center

San Diego city became the owner this week of nine acres of beach adjoining the Mission Beach amusement center property on the south, having bought same from the J. D. and A. B. Spreckels Co., for $3,000. All the nine acres lies outside the sea-wall and has been used by the public for many years.

The city council also accepted a deed from Larry Finley, amusement center lessee, to the Mission Beach skating rink. He purchased the rink building at the time he gained the amusement center lease, with the understanding that it would be given to the city. The building was erected on city property by a private concessionaire some years ago.

Lions Club From Mission Beach Visits Kiwanians

Talk on R. Kipling by Myron Insko Pleases Crowd

Ocean Beach Kiwanis meeting of Tuesday evening was featured by a large delegation of visitors from the Mission Beach-Pacific Beach Lions club. Other visitors were City Councilman C. C. Cray, a member of the La Jolla Kiwanis Club; and Lowell Howe of the municipal court of San Diego.

Responding to introductions by President Jerry Sullivan, President Lovell and Vice President Prentiss Scheafer of the visiting club spoke briefly. Fred Renneker of the visiting club was their main speaker and gave a history of the Lions club, which now has, he said, about 180,000 members in 15 different countries. Primary purpose of the Lions club, he said, is to solve local problems. He closed his remarks with the reading of the Lions code of ethics.

Main speaker for the evening program was Dr. Myron Insko, past lieutenant governor and member of the local club. He was introduced by Dr. Frank E. McElwee, program chairman for the evening. Dr. Insko pleased the crowd with a scholarly speech on Rudyard Kipling, interweaving into the talk the recitation of parts of Kipling's best known and liked poems. He paid high compliment to the famous English poet.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Early of 4514 Narragansett last week completed the sale of their home and furnishings in Tucson, Ariz., having decided to become permanent residents of Ocean Beach. Mrs. Early is now president of Ocean Beach Woman's club, and is largely responsible for the growth and prosperity of that organization in the past year. She is also active in church and civic work here, giving freely of her time and effort to any worthy cause.

DON MOFFATT OF OCEAN BEACH NEWS TAKEN TO HOSPITAL ON TUESDAY

Don W. Moffatt of the Ocean Beach News was taken to the Paradise Valley hospital Tuesday ill with stomach ulcer hemorrhage. Blood transfusions were found necessary. At last report he was improving. As a result of his illness The News has been greatly handicapped in getting out this week's issue and knows of no better "good turn" than for a linotype operator and all-around printer to come to The News office and go to work at once. Information leading to the emergency help needed will be greatly appreciated.

Bonds For Mission Bay Improvement To Go On Ballot

A $2,000,000 bond issue to raise money to start development of the city's proposed Mission Bay recreation area will go on the ballot at the April 17 city election, according to action taken by the council Tuesday.

The council also instructed the city attorney to prepare a bill for introduction in the state legislature asking the state to relinquish Mission Bay state park, thereby enabling the city to go ahead with the Mission Bay project, for which a total expenditure of $10,000,000 is planned following the war.

Committee Cites Cray's Record in Supporting Him

(By Cray-For-Council Comm.) Pledging his efforts to the maintenance of a "good, fair, clean and non-partisan" government in San Diego, City Councilman Gerald C. Cray recently announced his candidacy for the city council from the first district, the district of which Ocean Beach is a part.

Cray, young, successful owner of the Cleancraft Laundry and Dry Cleaners of La Jolla, was appointed to the council eight months ago to fill the unexpired term of Councilman Fred Simpson, when he resigned to be a director of the Water Authority.

Councilman G. L. Cray

During that time, Cray has taken a prominent part in beach development and plans for the improvement of Mission Bay. He is a director of the California Shore Line Planning Assn., a group interested in acquiring, preserving and developing the beaches of the California shoreline.

Cray came to San Diego in 1931, and has taken an active part in community life, serving in 1937-38 as North Shore district chairman of the Boy Scouts, and a member of the executive board. He is a director of the La Jolla Red Cross, the La Jolla Chamber of Commerce, member of the Kiwanis club, Chamber of Commerce of San Diego, San Diego County Fish and Game Assn., and is president of the La Jolla Band Parents Assn.

Discussing his platform, Cray says he is a strong supporter of the present city manager charter form of government. Highlighting his program is the beautification of the city's natural assets including Mission Bay, and the beaches to bring tourists here "to enjoy the greatest playground in America." These dollars, plus those in industry, the Navy, and agriculture, can furnish jobs for our citizens, and thus make "San Diego a beautiful, prosperous and thriving community."

Judge J. J. Brennan Announces He Will Be Candidate Again

"Justice tempered with mercy" is the keynote of the campaign of Municipal Judge John J. Brennan, who announces himself as a candidate for re-election at the primaries March 13.

From January 3 to December 30, 1944, Judge Brennan's department handled 38,833 complaints, exclusive of traffic bill forfeitures, for a monthly average of 3,236, and a daily average of 108.

A resident of San Diego for more than 33 years, Judge Brennan has practiced law here since being admitted to the bar in 1913. He maintained his law practice here for 25 years, then being appointed to the bench.

The judge has resided with his family at his present North Park address, 3761 29th Street, for more than 29 years. His son, Capt. John J. Brennan Jr., is now serving with a combat infantry unit in Italy. His daughter, Mrs. Marita McLaren, is the wife of Comdr. William F. McLaren, USN.

Red Cross Drive Under Way Here; Leaders Selected

Mrs. M. Fried and Mrs. James A. Abbey In Charge

B. Oster, Marc Strauss, Dan Moss, J. R. Lowmes and Milton Lancaster. They are meeting with splendid response and no doubt Ocean Beach will "go over the top" as usual.

For the entire Ocean Beach district, Mrs. Morris Fried, who also handled the drive last year, is chairman again and is assisted by Mrs. James A. Abbey as co-chairman of the district. Mrs. Arthur Loring is the area chairman.

Captains chosen to date, each of whom will select their own assistants are as follows, reports Mrs. Fried: Mesdames R. J. Long, Jean Young, Julius Steinman, J. Smith, R. Dickerman, C. H. Woolley and Marc Strauss.

Plan is to carry on a house-to-house canvass, announces Mrs. Fried, and for this part of the campaign to start the coming Monday. The drive will last until the end of the month of March. Those not contacted and who may be missed for one reason or another can leave their Red Cross donations at the Fried Store, 5010 Newport Ave., announces the chairman.

"Little Women" Again Tonight Point Loma high school students brought to life again the beloved story, "Little Women," when advanced drama students presented the four-act comedy of this story Thursday evening. Friends and patrons of the school who did not attend last evening's performance will have the opportunity to see the second and last performance this (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock at the high school. Credit should go to each member of the cast for splendid team-work and characterizations of the immortal characters and special credit to members of the stage design class, under the direction of Miss Willa B. Brodie, for the excellent sets and particularly the fourth act set which

REESE GRAVES USN WRITES C. SCHRODER EXPRESSING APPRECIATION FOR HELP

Reese E. Graves, USN, now on a tour of duty at Cilebra, West Indies, in a recent letter writes Carl Schroder, 4844 W. Pt. Loma blvd., as follows:

"You know at night I lay in my bunk and think about many good times we've had. 'You've taught me things and given me memories that have carried me through some tough spots. I appreciate those lessons and I'm grateful beyond anything I could do or say—and I know other fellows who feel the same way. We owe you a great deal.'"

Schroder said he has received many communications of this nature from people here and throughout the country whom he knew as children. "I always have liked people and especially children," Schroder said.

"I have some pretty fine tools and boys and girls come to me from all over town wanting things fixed. Well, I always try my best to fix them. Especially these days when you can hardly buy anything."

"I see their faces light up? And get a lot of pleasure out of tinkering with my drills, and forge and lathes and the like. I did that kind of work all my life."

We had cakes decorated for Valentine's Day and for Washington's birthday and they were pretty. Have had from 53 to 63 dozen cookies each week but so many wounded boys are coming home that we need dozens and dozens more. Please help.

Samuel Tones donated a wheel chair for the use of a home town boy who will never walk again. Earl Shaw and Lloyd Greeson painted and varnished it and it was just like new. Red Cross and myself wish to thank them all.

C. A. Peace, brother of Mrs. F. B. McElwee, donated a wonderful pair of ear phones to a boy who is badly burned and he will certainly get lots of pleasure from them.

Has anyone a harmonica that they will donate to a boy in the South Pacific? This urgent appeal just came in to headquarters, also card tables are badly needed in the dispensary. If you have these let me know at once as they are so urgently needed.

Don't forget the little six-inch bags with double drw. string. These can be made of any strong material you may have and are badly needed to ship games, such as dominoes, Chinese checkers, marbles, chess men, etc.

Any musical instruments or kodaks you may have are wanted by the boys in the hospitals here and the camp hospitals in the county. Please see what you can do to help.

Where your men folks go in battle there you will find the Red Cross.

AMERICAN HEROES

by JULIAN OLLENDORFF

Winging over the ocean on anti-submarine patrol, Lt. Comdr. (now Commander) Charles W. Brewer, U.S.N., 33, sighted a surfaced enemy. Pouring machine-gun fire, a thousand rounds, on the conning tower, he prevented the manning of anti-aircraft guns. Then came a violent explosion; flames filled the conning tower and enveloped the super-structure. Comdr. Brewer was awarded a Gold Star for the attack. Buy War Bonds to supply more planes to continue such action.

POST WAR PLANNING—

I think that with the energy, the faith and determination which this war has proved that free men of all nations possess, we can take the future, which isn't very clear, and carve out anything that human imagination can think of, provided it is worth carving out and is beneficial to the human family, and also, provided we are willing to work for it.

Charles F. Kettering

THE RED CROSS — OUR RESPONSIBILITY

A sage once said, "For a man to help another is to be a god."

In March, every person in America will be given an opportunity to help another. The 1945 American Red Cross War Fund Campaign must raise $200,000,000 to extend and maintain the world-wide services of this mighty organization.

The Red Cross is no thing apart—it is you and I and everyone in America today. Its very existence depends upon the voluntary contributions of the American citizens. Therefore, it is the responsibility of every member of the family to participate in this great drive. When a Red Cross volunteer rings your doorbell, remember she comes as your representative in the American Red Cross. Through her you, and each member of your family will have the opportunity of giving service to your boy in uniform or your neighbor in need.

That the Red Cross program is vital to our best interests cannot be questioned. Our men in service have been aided by the Red Cross on every front. When they are confronted with loneliness and anxiety, they are met by the smiles, coffee and doughnuts, the recreation clubs and rest centers of the Red Cross. When they are forced down in the jungles of Burma, Red Cross mercy kits are parachuted to them. When a soldier worries about his family, Red Cross Home Service becomes the medium of communication. When he is wounded, Red Cross plasma saves his life and Red Cross hospital workers help in his rehabilitation. The great work of the 35 services of the American Red Cross is unending.

Each of us has an obligation to help our servicemen and their families now and after the war. One of the best ways we can fulfill our responsibility is through full participation—by every member of our family—in the 1945 Red Cross War Fund Drive. Give now—Give more!

NEW CARS—WHEN?

Last fall during our military "Indian Summer" when everything looked rosy and "the-war-will-be-over-by-Christmas" attitude prevailed, some prognosticators had figured out that new automobiles might be rolling off the assembly line about this time, or that reconversion toward that end would be well under way.

Well, it was pleasant to contemplate—until the rude awakening.

Today we are unquestionably nearer victory in Europe than we were a few months ago, although that doesn't mean that Germany will fold up shortly. Yet, talk of reconversion and new car production has virtually vanished.

Meantime, more and more cars still rolling over American streets and highways are becoming fugitives from the junkpile. Of the estimated 25 million automobiles in active service, it is believed at least half would have been "retired" by this time under normal conditions.

This means that the American Automobile industry will have at least a backlog of about 12,000,000 vehicles when it can shift to peace production. Actually, the number may be much greater. The huge savings accumulated by the American people may create the urge for new cars even to those whose present vehicles are still in fair condition.

When reconversion comes, the clamor for new cars should keep Detroit very busy for several years just catching up with the accumulated demand.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Harmony Note of Big Three Meet; Mighty U.S. Aerial Blows Carry War to Heart of Jap Homeland

Released by Western Newspaper Union.
(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Freed by daring U. S. Ranger attack on Cabanatuan prison camp, liberated Yanks joyfully make their way back to American lines for transfer to evacuation hospital in Philippines.

EUROPE:

Postwar Pattern

Their historic conference at Yalta having ended in agreement, the Big Three departed from the balmy Crimean watering resort determined to maintain equal harmony on the implementation of the new course they struck for trodden Europe, envisaging the return of democratic government and obliteration of Nazism and Fascism.

Thorniest problem in Allied relations before the conference, the Polish question was met by U. S. and British recognition to Russian annexation of part of eastern Poland, and the agreement to include independent democratic leaders into the Red-sponsored provisional government until the people themselves can name their own regime in a free and open election.

In respect to free elections, guaranteeing the people of all the liberated countries the right to pick their own governments, the Big Three pledged their support to assist any nation in measures designed to bring about such polls.

With agreement on the vexatious Polish problem and restoration of democratic government in the new

Declaring that the Big Three's terms for Germany released its people from all moral scruples of warfare, Nazi propagandists said: "Every enemy will be met by fanatical men, women and children, who know what treatment is in store for them, and, therefore, wish to kill, murder and poison all who attempt to oppress them."

Europe, the Big Three also moved toward maintenance of such an order by further discussion of steps on a postwar international security organization, with the talks at Yalta designed to meet Russian objections to the Dumbarton Oaks plans for prohibiting any nation charged with aggression from voting on measures to bring it in line.

Overwhelming agreement was reached on treatment for a defeated Reich, with Messrs. Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin determined to crush German militarism by dissolution of the wehrmacht, break-up of its general staff, elimination of all industry that could be used for war production, and complete eradication of all Nazi and Junker influences in the nation's life.

Further, Germany would be made to pay for war damage, with an Allied commission set up in Moscow determining on the extent of reparations, probably in terms of manpower and goods.

Allies Advance

With their hopes of an Allied division blasted at Yalta, and with the combined weight of the U. S., Britain and Russia drawn up against them, the Germans maneuvered in both the west and east for a last-ditch struggle.

In the east, so-called "alarm units" and the "people's army" were thrown into breaches to hold open avenues of retreat for German forces falling back from Silesia to Saxony as the Russians drove on this all-important Nazi industrial district. As the Reds pushed ahead, one wing of this offensive nosed northwestward toward Berlin, sorely pressed by a frontal assault of Marshal Zhukov's forces.

In the west, the Germans fought hard to thwart the Canadian and British attempt to turn their far northern flank, drive into the industrial Ruhr and trap Nazi forces guarding the Rhineland from the rear.

WAR COSTS

With this war costing the world some $200 billions a year, or more than $500 millions a day, in direct military expenditures alone, the annual expenditure is roughly equal to the whole direct cost of the First World War, estimated at $208 billions by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

Staggering though these figures are, they do not include indirect costs of war, such as the value of human life lost, property destruction, etc.

PACIFIC:

Mighty Strike

To Tokyo's 8,000,000 terrified residents, it was as if the whole host of demons themselves had swooped from the skies; to American aviators and sailors, it offered the supreme satisfaction of slapping a vicious enemy in his own backyard, and to millions of people at home, it represented the opening of the battle for Japan itself.

Thus shaped Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's mighty strike against Tokyo and the home island of Honshu, with 1,500 Hellcats, Helldivers and Avenger planes taking off from about 15 to 20 carriers of the 27,000-ton class, escorted by a formidable screen of fast battleships, cruisers and destroyers. Though meeting strong opposition, the aircraft shot up enemy planes, cratered airfields and pulverized other military installations around the Jap capital.

While the major attack roared on, with the once vaunted, since battered Jap imperial fleet failing to challenge Mitscher's force riding 300 miles off of Honshu shores, other American warships and army planes hammered the Volcano and Bonin islands, 600 miles to the south.

WAR PRODUCTION: Schedules Increase

With emphasis on more bombers and engine parts, the government increased its war contracts in recent weeks, indicating that the rapid pace of the conflict is forcing readjustment of needs.

Besides the boost in the bomber and engine parts program, it was revealed, ground troops were scheduled to get 21.9 per cent more ammunition, heavy artillery and tanks.

To meet a critical emergency of engine parts in battle zones, the government has undertaken a 50 million dollar expansion of the industry, and established special panels, or committees, in the seven major plants for speeding up of output.

Labor Relations

Supplementing its previous policy of plant seizures to back up War Labor board rulings designed to settle industrial disputes, the U. S. drew a new weapon to force compliance through cancellation of a firm's government contracts.

In following such a course of action against the E. A. Laboratories of Brooklyn, N. Y., Economic Stabilization Director Vinson said that the U. S.'s procedure was legal, insofar as the courts have frequently held that no business has an automatic right to getting a government contract.

Despite the U. S.'s power to influence compliance with WLB orders through plant seizures and withholding of priorities, in addition to contract cancellations, OES Chief Vinson said that still more effective action could be obtained through legislation furnishing non-compliance.

G.I.s Long for Civvies

Discharged G.I.s are so anxious to get back into civilian clothes, a survey of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company showed, that they want alterations on their new suits "done in the next ten minutes"; they shun cheap clothing and buy good quality suits—averaging about $45 in price; they don't shop around, but go to one store and buy as nearly a complete outfit as the store can supply; they usually pay cash, even when they could "charge it," and they seldom shop alone.

He had just bought a cigar in a general merchandise store and immediately proceeded to light it. "Didn't you notice the sign?" asked the clerk.

"What?" exploded the customer. "You sell cigars in here, but prohibit smoking!"

The clerk answered sweetly, "We also sell bath towels."

He: We're coming to the tunnel. Are you afraid?
San Diego Cutie: "No, but for gosh sakes take that cigar out of your mouth."

BOB HOPE SAID THIS IN his book, "I Never Left Home: "A soldier is the most sentimental guy in the world, the most religious and the kindest. I guess the nearer you get to death the better you become. It's getting good the hard way . . . but that's the only way you'll ever make it."

Doctor: "Any intestinal trouble?"

Boot: "I don't know. It hasn't been issued to me yet."

Doctor: "Do you know the King's English?"

Boot: "Is he?"

Doctor: "My but you are stupid."

Boot: "You ought to see my brother, he walks all humped over."

A negro evangelist calling for converts saw a strange negro on the back seat and said: "Brother, don't you want to join the army of de Lord?" The negro replied: "Ise done jined." "Where?" asked the evangelist. "Down at de Baptist Church." The evangelist, a Methodist, said: "You didn't join the army, you joined the navy."

An Australian tried to enlist, but was refused because of bad feet. Next morning, he presenter himself again before the doctor. "It's no use. I can't take you, as you couldn't stand the marching," said the medico. "But why are you so insistent?"

"Well, Doc," said the man, "I walked 187 miles to get here, and I hate to walk back." Cablegram.

Christian Science

Text is "Christ Jesus"

"Christ Jesus" will be the subject of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. This prophecy from Isaiah is the Golden Text: "There shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots."

A Bible selection from Mark's Gospel reports that Jesus "appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen. And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. . . . And these signs shall follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; . . . they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "Our Master fully and finally demonstrated divine Science in his victory over death and the grave." "The reappearing of Jesus was not the return of a spirit. He presented the same body that he had before his crucifixion, and so glorified the supremacy of Mind over matter."

Dere Ocean Beach . . . Card from Burritt S. Mills, from St. Louis, Mo. . . . Strange as it may seem, Burritt is enjoying the snow and ice for a change. Ocean Beach misses you, Cap, and the great interest you took in its civic activities. Hope we may have you back some day.

Letter from Pvt. Bill Heckman, who is in the Philippines now. Bill spent Christmas aboard ship and had turkey and all the trimmings. Each man received a surprise package, also. Bill's many friends may address their letters to Pvt. William S. Heckman, A.S.N. 3773751, Air Cargo Resupply Squadron, 8th Army A.P.O. 343, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

You can reach Bob Lundberg by addressing your V-Mail to Robert S. Lundberg, S2c, Island Command 926, Div. 23, c/o Fleet Postoffice, San Francisco, California.

Word from the Sandy Engels from Los Angeles. Baby Stephen Marc is well on road to recovery. We may look for these fine people to make a name for themselves in the Movie world.

2nd Lieut. Phil Atkins, and wife, Julie, spent a week with Phil's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Atkins of 4375 Coronado Ave. They are on their way to Paris, Texas, where Phil will be stationed at Camp Maxie, Phil's sister, Louise, and Cpl. Ned Williams up and said the words at St. James by the Sea in La Jolla Saturday evening at 8 p.m. After a brief honeymoon at Arrowhead Springs, the couple will answer the doorman at 4375 Coronado Ave. Many happy returns, folks!

Don Kennedy, who spent four years in the Army, has returned from overseas on a medical discharge, and is attending State College as a result of the "G. I. bill." Don is a former graduate of San Diego high school, and is now rooming with Gene Southwell, 4414 Cape May Ave., Ocean Beach. Gene just left his last will and testament at Pt. Loma high, and is attending State along with Don.

Both O. B. Liquor Store and Veda Moss' Shop's burglar alarms voiced their resentment of the anti-aircraft booming in La Jolla last week. Apparently both alarms started ringing after the particularly loud firing Wed. and Thurs. evenings. . . . Gerry Kruschka may leave Cache of Sweets to join family in Long Beach, unless we can do some tall talking. What's the matter, Gerry, homesick? . . . Johnny Johnson's mind is more relieved since he received a letter from son, Jimmie, in the S. Pacific.

"SLACKS AND CALLOUSES" . . . Unless some of your best friends happen to be employed in an aircraft factory, chances are, all you know about this way of life is what you read in the papers. Constance Bowman has cast a bright ray of sunshine on the life of those building bombers and the setting is Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Co. of San Diego. Miss Bowman, and her illustrator, Clara Marie Allen are a couple of S. D. school teachers, who spent a summer building "Liberators." You'll find their experiences exciting and impressive.
